

Our Vacation

Dear Richard,

www.englishtreasure.asia

We have checked in to our hotel and are excited to start our vacation. Las Vegas is a very varied city. The hotels on 'The Strip' are all different, from the pyramid of the Luxor casino to the imperial magnificence of Caesar's Palace, the exotic Tropicana, and the lush orchids at the Mirage.

We also plan to take an affordable package tour to the Grand Canyon, which we have been told is breathtaking. It is amazing to think that something so big was simply eroded away by one river! We will explore and try to find some caves, unless they're inaccessible – maybe we will see stalactites and stalagmites. Trying to remember which ones point down from the ceiling and which ones point up from the floor still fills me with confusion!

The noise of the people and laughter here is so stimulating and exciting. The city never sleeps, and so we won't either! We will check out of our hotel on Friday and our flight will touch down at 7 PM, so don't forget to pick us up!
